Local briefs: Olympia mason worker builds pond for Wolf Haven International pack

THE NEWS TRIBUNE

Lois Bell, Published: Feb 6, 2004

Olympia resident Todd Harris combined his love of nature with his masonry skills and built a pond as a memorial to his grandmother.

The pond will benefit the wolf pack that makes up the newest residents at Wolf Haven International - the seven-member San Bernardino wolf pack.

Harris, 31, is owner and operator of Olympia-based Stone People - Water Gardens and Landscape Masonry. He developed a fondness for Wolf Haven while installing paver bricks in the sanctuary's "Path of Understanding," a path where the bricks are donated by Wolf Haven supporters, often as tributes to relatives or pets who have passed away or to Wolf Haven wolves.

Harris' parents, who have one of their son's ponds in their yard, donated $1,500 to cover the cost of materials. Harris donated his labor.

The water feature includes a two-tiered pond with a waterfall, a circulating pump and a skimmer box - a project that would normally cost as much as $7,000. It is in the larger portion of the pack's two adjoining enclosures.

The feature used between five and six tons of granite rock and has a heavy-duty animal-safe liner for the ponds.

Wolf Haven is located at 3111 Offut Lake Road, Tenino. It is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesdays through Mondays (closed during the month of February). Guided walking tours of wolves are given on the hour between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Admission is $4 to $6.

For more information, visit www.wolfhaven.org or call 1-800-448- WOLF (9653). To contact Todd Harris, call 360-754-7303.
